Live Interaction

Add live interaction to your website

Nixel Chat comes from a leading Indian software & strategy company Nixel Technology. As technology solutions providers since 1991, we have been developing software & strategy for companies in India, the United States and Europe. Nixel Chat comes to you with the additional assurance of a product that has a dedicated team for development and enhancement, support and customization.

Nixel Chat has been developed using the revolutionary Java technology and can be used with Windows NT & Linux servers. A small footprint, reliable operation and simple user interface makes it an extremely attractive option for your website.

There are a whole range of options, features and applications that you can exploit with this interactive medium. Nixel Technology will be delighted to work hand-in-hand with you and make your website a pulsating, dynamic and fun filled experience for your visitors.

Nixel Chat comes with very flexible licensing options. You can hire a Nixel Chatroom for a year for only $24.95 (or Rs 995) per month. Then sit back, rest assured that you have a reliable chatroom running 24 hours a day making your website a busy, noisy and exciting place on the world wide web. All product upgrades will be yours automatically as the Nixel Chat team works furiously to build more advanced functionality and features. In addition, if you do need to interact with our team and get valuable product support and services, we are always just an email away.

So don't wait anymore. Just visit the Nixel Chat website and place your order online. Or email us at sales@nixel.com to have us begin a dialogue with you immediately.
